QUIET WATERS HAPPENINGS

QWO's 2nd B&B Coming to Hillsboro This May! Come be a Sponsor!

Selah West (say-la): to pause, rest, and break at QWO's new 2nd Bed & Breakfast in Hillsboro. Yes, it's true! After years of planning, QWO will soon be accepting reservations for people with Developmental Disabilities to stay at QWO's newest respite home. Thanks to the generosity of many organizations, people, and volunteers, we were blessed with a home in Hillsboro (1550 NE Oleander Lane) that will become another home just like QWO's current Martha's Place. It will help QWO double its capacity to provide day and overnight respite care...all a part of our master vision, the Vision of Hope. For the last few months, volunteers, sponsors, and team members have prepared the home by remodeling, hiring 4 new Guest Services Specialists, and decorating. Every bedroom in the house has been sponsored, as well as, a number of items donated. Just last week, a generous family donated a van for the home to use! We are so overwhelmed by the giving spirit of so many. We have many more items to be sponsored. Interested in helping? Tune in for QWO's Interview on 1360 KUIK, Friday!

Tune in to 1360 KUIK this Friday, April 10th from 8-9am as Talk Show Host, Don McCoun interviews QWO's leaders. Executive Director, Steve Ristow, Board Treasurer, Ron Powne, and Director of Development, Mike Stice will share with Mr. McCoun and his listeners, the exciting news of Selah West. Based in Hillsboro, KUIK is the natural choice for getting the word out about Hillsboro's new B&B providing respite care. We invite you to support us by tuning in to a great interview.

Understanding the Role of the Director of Development

Most people would consider that my job is to ask people for money. Now to some degree that's true, but that's not where we start. My first responsibility to both QWO and anyone who I speak with is to treat them with kindness, professionalism and a caring attitude. As the Director of Development, it's my objective to help our ministry reach our immediate and long-range goals through financial support received from individuals, families, organizations and foundations. There are several ways to accomplish this:

First, ignite a passion in the community for Quiet Waters Outreach. In other words, it's an opportunity to share the GOOD NEWS of who we are and what we do to as many people as possible. I can accomplish that by meeting someone over a cup of coffee or speaking to an audience of two-hundred. We will also have the opportunity again in October to enjoy our annual benefit dinner, which allows us to invite friends, family, and acquaintances who may want to know more about QWO.

Second, meet with those individuals, families and organizations that have been so faithful in sharing their resources through contributions of their time, talents, prayers and financial resources. I make sure they know the life changing impact their contributions are having on the individuals and families we serve.

Lastly, to initiate a planned giving program that provides the opportunity to support QWO through gifts of stock, gifts through life insurance, charitable gift annuities, deferred gift annuities, charitable lead trusts and other vehicles.

To sum it up, I am honored to support an organization that is dedicated to serving individuals with developmental disabilities, their families and caregivers by providing services that restore their spiritual, physical, emotional and mental health.
